WALTON ACCUSED OF BUYING GOVERNORSHIP

Fighting Breaks Out In Hamburg Germany

Commissioner's Of Banking Testimony Is Heard

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 23.—"Black Gold" paved the way for Walton to the governor's chair, according to the testimony of Dr. E. T. Bynum, former banking commissioner and adviser to the governor, before the House impeachment committee. The reading of Bynum's testimony consumed the morning session.

Lynch To Be Asked Why He Won't Fight

HENRY L. TAYLOR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—After having signed his hands with official reprimand, suspension and turned up all the punishment that the law makes legal the New York Boxing Commission is about ready to give up the attempt to make Joe Lynch fight Pete Herman.

Lynch, the bantamweight champion, is to be summoned before the commission today to explain why he would not fight Joe Burman, the Chicago challenger, last week.

Lynch claims that he had dislocated his shoulder when he tripped over his prone adversary and fell, and refused to go on with Burman. The commission doctor said that nothing was wrong with his shoulder and that he should go on.

The doctors will be summoned with Lynch this afternoon and the customary rule of the commission about "clean breaks" will prevail. None of the principals have to make weight and only reputation and no titles will be at stake. Lynch isn't much worried about the hearing. He openly laughs at the commission with the attitude, "well, what are you going to do about it?"

If the commission had a sense of humor, the members of the board probably would cry with the champion to let Lynch because they can't do anything about it.

Lynch was suspended previously for refusing to fight Burman and the Chicago boy was to fight with the New York title holder declared to be a record by and the suspension was lifted when he agreed to accept Burman challenge.

To champion the cause of the public and Herman and Promoter Goldstein, the Solons of the Athletic Commission substituted for Lynch exposed everyone by neatly forgetting.

Goldstein is for the world champion in New York and Lynch with Herman Goldstein and all other states could beat Goldstein with one hand. At least so letters sent New York could beat the new champion.

If the commission stood Lynch again it will have to accept Goldstein as the world champion and the commission naturally don't think such a ruling would be rather funny to say the least.

SEPARATIST BOUNDARY IS DEFINED

BRUSSELS, Oct. 23.—Message from Bonn today forecast that the boundaries of the separatist State will include all German territory on the left bank of the Rhine and an area extending 33 miles on the right bank, beginning at the Baden frontier.

Aix La Chapelle dispatches said the Rhineland Republic continues to extend its sway with little bloodshed.

Aix is quite but it is feared clashes are imminent.

Capture of Bonn is expected momentarily.

The separatists are declaring openly that they will carry out scheduled major movements today.

Charge Arson and Murder to Two New Yorkers

W. H. Ford and James R. Lynch

W. H. Ford, a New York real estate broker, is held on a charge of arson and murder in connection with the deaths of six persons in a fire which destroyed a frame dwelling house in Brooklyn. James R. Lynch, 25, an accountant, was held as a material witness. The police charge diabolical crime, alleging Ford sought only the death of George F. Keim, his wealthy father-in-law, who boarded there. Ford and Keim, whose fortune was estimated at $500,000, had quarreled over business transactions. To kill Keim, the police allege, Ford killed five others.

Impeachment Balloting To Begin Today

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 23.—Balloting upon the first of the impeachment charges made against Governor J. C. Walton will not start before late today, anti-Walton leaders indicated.

Reading of the testimony collected by the Disney-Tolbert House investigating committee will consume the greater part of the day's session which started at 9 o'clock, Chairman Disney declared today.

Considerable time was expected to be taken in the balloting since each charge will be voted on separately, Thomas Wren, Okfuskee county, House member, stated today.

Suspension of the Governor pending disposal of charges filed in the Senate from the House will become effective with formal notification of the executive that charges have been filed Wren declared.

In event Walton is suspended, Lieutenant-Governor M. E. Trapp will act as Governor pending the disposal of the charges, it was indicated.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hughes are expected home within the next few days after a vacation spent in New York City.

Noel Hollingsworth is a Groesbeck visitor today.

There was plenty of "Corn Willie," beans and other famous fighting foods in quantities that enabled all who desired to secure "seconds."

Police fired despite orders of the French military, dispatches said.

Late dispatches indicated the separatist movement in the Rhineland had taken a more serious turn than was first anticipated.

200 SEPARATIST ATTACK POLICE AT WIESBADEN

Social Leader Steals Car and Loses Standing

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 23.—Stanley Dawson's social prestige slumped to zero today, when he was charged in police court here with tampering with a motor car.

According to police Dawson came to Excelsior Springs from Baltimore and became the society favorite of the fashionable resort.

He was handsome and polished, and society women competed for his attentions, police said.

Recently he rented an auto which he failed to return.

"I couldn't pay the rental so I kept the machine," he told the police.

Dawson was held in jail in default of bond. He will be arraigned for preliminary hearing Oct. 31.

15 Killed And One Hundred Wounded In Clashes

ARMY IN SAXONY

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The army sent by the Central Government to occupy Saxony and support General von Mueller in suppressing Communist activities reached its post today almost without bloodshed.

Except for the brief clash at Messen when troops arrested Communists suspected of firing on them from houses, the situation was quiet.

General Mueller today was conferring with bankers who agreed to finance supplies of potatoes to be distributed throughout the district.

Reichwehr troops were moved swiftly in eighty trains and brought the strength in Saxony to 50,000. With this force General Mueller believed he could control the situation. A secret session of the Reichsrat, which to some extent corresponds to the American Senate, was hurriedly called for Wednesday to discuss the Bavarian situation.

It was reported in Munich that General Kressenstein has been offered the post formerly held by General von Lossow as dictator for the Bavaria district but had declined.

Minister of Defense Gessler and General von Seeckt were reported ready to resign on "technical grounds."

Their resignations would be interpreted as a surrender to Dr. von Kahr, Bavaria's own dictator, who demanded Gessler's resignation after the Federal Government had yielded to the Socialists by recalling von Lossow.

Von Kahr in an interview today accussed the Central Government of wilfully misguiding public opinion and said it was under Marxian Socialist influences. He pictured Bavaria as the champion of German patriotism against these influences.

"If the Stresemann Cabinet now sought to arouse the nation against the French enemy, it would hardly succeed on account of its previous dishonorable negotiations with France," von Kahr declared.

The Thuringian government announced increased protection would be maintained along the borders "to protect against any attempt at invasion from Bavaria." It also warned that no formation of private military units in the State would be tolerated.

The Central Government took a further step in its drastic currency measures today when it reestablished the system of fixing an arbitrary exchange rate at which all transactions in "valuta"—buying and selling of currencies must be made.

It also forbade food shops to close and established heavy penalties for persons caught plundering.

Issue of a stable currency will be made at the earliest date possible, it was announced.

Police were called to forty places in the Berlin area to stop outbursts of plundering.

Thousands of persons gathered in crowds in the city and suburbs menacing food shops but police dispersed them without serious clashes.

One of the main markets in Berlin had to be closed to prevent the crowds from attempting to storm it.

J. W. Vaughan of Fairfield was a business visitor here today.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Eubanks saw Texas and Vanderbilt play ball at Dallas Saturday.

D. Long is here from Corsicana.

A GUIDE FOR NEWSPAPER MEN

An insight into our late President's character will be gained by reading his instructions to reporters and writers on the Marion "Star", They are as follows:

Remember there are two sides to every question, Get them both.

Be truthful. Get the facts.

Mistakes are inevitable, but strive for accuracy. I would rather have one story exactly right than a hundred half wrong. Be decent, be fair, be generous.

Boost—don't knock. There's good in everybody. Bring out the good and never needlessly hurt the feelings of anybody.

In reporting a political gathering give the facts, tell the story as it is, not as you would like to have it. Treat all parties alike. If there is any politics to be played, we will play it in our editorial columns. Treat all religious matters reverently.

If it can possibly be avoided, never bring ignominy to an innocent man or child in telling of the misdeeds or misfortunes of a relative.

Don't wait to be asked, but do it without the asking, and above all be clean and never let a dirty word or suggestive story get into type. I want this paper so conducted that it can go into any home without destroying the innocence of any child.

HOW CAN A POOR MAN GET AHEAD?

The Tale of the Lonesome Bond and the Business Woman Who Is Seeking a Mate for It.

(This is the Fifth of twelve true stories of wage earners and salaried men and women who have found the road to financial independence.)

By SAMUEL O. RICE, Educational Director
Investment Bankers Association of America

A business woman, formerly a school teacher but now employed in the offices of a large publicity utility company, gave her experience as a small investor to be the fifth in this series showing how average, everyday folks can get ahead.

"I bought Liberty Bonds during the war, $100 of every issue," said the business woman. "Somehow I thought so much of them I couldn't bear the idea of sacrificing them for a fur coat or a trip to California, as some of the other girls in the office did. But after I had them paid for I ceased systematic saving—I put away a few dollars only when I didn't want anything very badly or had earned extra money.

"Even haphazard and meager savings accumulated $900 in three years. I hadn't thought much about investing it until a salesman for automobile stock tried to interest me. His stock was $10 a share. I didn't bite because that salesman was the same man who had taken the first $50 I ever saved. He gave me another kind of automobile stock for it, after he had shown me how rich I would be if I could have put $50 into General Motors, Ford or other automobile business. My $50 of stock had paid one dividend, $5 and then hit bottom. I lost $50, and all my dreams of a safe, 10 per cent investment.

"Somebody suggested putting my $300 into bonds. Probably I am stupid but it never occurred to me that ordinary folks could buy bonds, except Liberties, perhaps. I spoke to the boss. He referred me to an established investment banking house. They told me I could buy a $500 bond by paying my $200 and then $20 for nine months and about $15 the tenth month. In less than a year the bond was all mine and now every 15th of March and September I clip a coupon from that bond and get $17.50 real money for it.

"I figured out the other day that when that bond matures in 1942 it will have paid me $700 and will still be worth $500. And if something dreadful should happen I can take that bond to the bank and get money on it. I am saving $25 a month now to get a companion for my $500 bond. It's lonesome."

PALACE THEATRE

Harry Feldman and Jack Wylie as Abie and Bozo were a scream from start to finish and never has there been two as clever comedians here as these two.

Little Agnes Geary the Electric Spark with her beautiful costumes and her rendition of the Joy Man Blues was one of the outstanding hits of the performance.

Harry Feldman offered songs and dances and scored the individual hit of the evening.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday Mr. Feldman will present a laughing, rip roaring farce entitled 'Step This Way" in which Abie and Bozo will be seen to their best advantage, and the chorus of American beauties will offer new dances.

Keys lost and found. Who's are they? This is a question asked by Chief of Police J. A. Thompson who states that anyone losing a bunch of keys yesterday may have same by seeing him and identifying them.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

GERMANY

State Press in Dallas News.

Mexia News: An Oklahoma automobile mechanic has fallen heir to a share in an estate in Germany worth $30,000.00C. Is it possible that there is that much real money in Germany? But maybe the man who made that much money was also in the auto repair business.

There is as much real property in Germany as there ever was. The war destroyed none of it. No fire, flood or earthquake has wrecked the German establishment. The fields, forests, mines, factories, railways, cities, men, women and children that were Germany are still Germany. What has happened in Germany is financial decay. The rulers of Germany were bad guessers and maladroit statesmen.. They set to work systematically to bankrupt their own Government and impoverish that large portion of the population which owned only paper securities and capacity for work. Those who owned no houses or other real property have been ruined by the ruinous policy of their own rulers, labor being ruined by adulterated wages and the paper security holders and professional classes by losing their savings. Germany could recover, in so far as earning its daily bread day by day is concerned, if it would. The German people have skill, equipment, industrious habits and scientific ability. But politicians have played with the fate of Germany, and the people have been reduced to beggary. Some time the force of common sense will begin to play upward from the bottom in Germany, as in Russia, and the futile statecraft which has frivoled with the destinies of a great population will be cast into the discard and men now unknown will restore order and intelligence. If those called to authority in Germany after the armistice had been as calous in meeting the treaty obligations they assumed as they have been in trying to avoid them, Germany would not today be writhing in pain and wailing in despair. She would, on the contrary, be showing the world how a defeated nation can triumph over the loss of a war. Our own South did that. Germany might have done.

LITTLE FOXES

Courtesy is a big word in any business. Many a firm has paved the way to financial ruin and ultimate bankruptcy by being discourteous to patrons. Many a discourteous salesman has driven business not only away from the establishment in which employed but from the town through his attitude toward the prospective customer. It may be that the patron only wanted a spool of thread, but the manner in which it was delivered to him determined whether or not he was to remain a customer

It was said that during the oil boom many farmers came to Mexia who wanted to make only very small purchases and in some instances, in one or two places, salesmen would pass them by to wait on a man who wanted to spend a larger sum. This was bad advertising for Mexia and the farmer so mistreated went home and told his family. They told their neighbors and so the report spread until every business man in Mexia has had to suffer loss of thousands of dollars.

Mexia business men are now on their guard. They know the value of that word "Courtesy". It costs little effort to extend it, but my, how it does pull.

Letters from People

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

In selecting its membership from a particular class of persons, the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in no-wise reflects upon those who do not belong to that class. This however, does not mean that the class which is not eligible to membership does not have within it the one who, despite their great cry against the Klan for its "un-Americanism" fully take the law into their own hands and attempt, by coercion, intimidation, assault and even murder, to destroy the Klan.

The daily press is filled with news of assaults on Klan parade, Klan meetings and individual Klan men. In view of this fact, just which class of the two mentioned above is the law violator? Surely the Klan is not violating the law because its meetings are fired upon; it can hardly be said that the Klan is breaking the law when their parade is stoned. Klansmen who are murdered certainly have not transgressed the law by dying by the bullet fired at the hate wielded by one opposed to the Klan.

The list of the outrages against Klansmen is so long that it would take weeks to compile even an incomplete list. However, the more recent and outstanding incidents are the murder of Robert Watson, of Indianapolis; the murder of the Klansmen who was shot down in Pittsburgh as he marched in a parade. The assault by a mob on visiting Klansmen in Steubenville; the two men who were shot at Rushville as they sat listening to a speech at an alleged Klan meeting; the shooting of a Klansman as a parade started in Burlington, Indiana; the concerted assault on an alleged Klan meeting in East Chicago was most certainly not made by Klansmen.

The kidnaping of a cripple, an alleged Klansman, at Cincinnati, recently, and his torture by his captors who afterward threw him from a speeding machine could hardly be "laid at the door of the Klan." At Washington, Indiana, a man is now awaiting trial for the murder of a Klansman; at Knox, an ex-secretary of the Knights of Columbus must face trial for firing on men and women who sat peacefully within a building at an alleged Klan meeting, and wounding two of them.

The aforementioned crimes are but a mere scratch of the surface of the myriad of crimes of which those opposed to the Klan are guilty. In view of the scores of such crimes committed each day throughout the country and against the members of the Ku Klux Klan, it naturally gives rise to the question? "Who are behind those outrages?"

That big class which makes up those who are not eligible to membership in the Klan is composed of foreigners, Catholics, negroes, Americans of bad repute, and Jews. Which of these four divisions produce these criminals? Or, have these four divisions joined hands to make a mockery of law, commit assaults, intimidate and murder human beings? Or rather, have the vicious of each of these four divisions formed into an alliance to perpetrate these outrages?

A man's nationality can usually be determined by his name. Would it not be a good idea for one who wishes to determine who is the most radically opposed to the Ku Klux Klan, to watch the names of those who most violently attack the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan? Also one may, after ascertaining one's nationality, determine his religion.

It is, indeed, an interesting study.—The Klan is founded on the word of God.

MANY REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES STILL THREATEN TO OPPOSE REELECTION OF COOLIDGE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Republican leaders who started the Coolidge bandwagon forward two months ago in the hope that it would be the only vehicle in the procession to the national convention of their party in 1924 are visibly chagrined to behold other chariots trailing along with candidates and supporters. It is already foreseen that the President will not constitute the entire parade.

Senator Moses of New Hampshire deserted Senator Hiram Johnson after having promoted him to get into the presidential race and pledged himself to Coolidge. A few outstanding Republicans followed Senator Moses—some with and others without qualification. But Moses has remained silent for weeks and it is beginning to be suspected that he regrets his commitment to President Coolidge as having been too precipitate.

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania is showing his resentment at the fight made on him by Republicans of Massachusetts following the negotiations of the "Pinchot pact" for the stoppage of the coal strike. It is regarded as certain that Governor Pinchot will continue his efforts to impair if not ruin President Coolidge's chances in the Republican convention. If Governor Pinchot can not himself obtain the nomination, it is felt by political observers, he will at least do all he can to open the gates and let other contenders into the field to challenge Mr. Coolidge.

Pronouncements from Senator Hiram Johnson indicate that he still fondly regards himself as the logical leader and presidential choice of the "Progressives." His abandonment by Senator Moses is not deemed to have hurt his original chances, however much it may have hurt his feelings. The Republican delegation from California must be "progressive," Johnson has declared, and this is taken to mean that it must favor and further his candidacy.

In the Middle West there is a quiet but persistent propaganda for former Governor Frank Lowden of Illinois. This is being conducted in part by the Chicago Tribune. The Tribune's Washington correspondent is traveling about through "Lowden territory" to find and exploit symptoms of preference for Lowden. In addition, the Tribune's correspondent is faithfully reporting everything he discovers in derogation of President Coolidge as the next candidate.

On a tour of Iowa, the Tribune's correspondent, reported, he found that "there is little enthusiasm over the President in any part of the State." There was not much sentiment for Hiram Johnson, either, according to this chronicler, but "a good deal everywhere for former Governor Frank O. Lowden." Advocates of Governor Lowden's nomination have been making capital for him by calling attention to the preponderance of Massachusetts in Congress and the Coolidge administration.

"Too Much Massachusetts" is the slogan which is being bandied about in Mr. Lowden's behalf by the Mid-West Review, issued from Aurora, Ill. This publication suggests that its slogan be raised in Washington when Congress convenes. A list of Massachusetts Republicans in important posts is published to show how powerful are its influences in the legislative and administrative branches of the Federal Government.

Senator Watson of Indiana has left the door open in case opportunity should happen along to offer him any encouragement. He has not permitted the record to show that he has eliminated himself in any one else's behalf. He is still available—very still.

It is now believed that the men who control the Republican National Committee will accept President Coolidge as the Republican nominee only on condition that he "unload" the World Court. There have been hints that he has determined to drop the Court. One interpretation of this is that his advisers believe he can't have the support of these powers within the National Committee if he stands by the Court.

Politicians are now convinced that the Republican presidential nomination is no longer a "cinch" for Mr. Coolidge.

Special Rates From Mexia To Diamond Jubilee

Information is being sent out from Fort Worth by Garfield Crawford, Publicity Director of the Diamond Jubilee to be held there November 11-14. Mr. Crawford is well known in Mexia and throughout the oil fields as editor of the National Oil Journal. Some here have thought that the Diamond Jubilee was a baseball celebration of some sort, arranged following the victory of Fort Worth in the Dixie series. Mr. Crawford, however, explains that this is not so but that it is an event in which not only Fort Worth but all Texas is interested.

He says that all a Mexia man or visitor from this section will have to say when they get there will be "Howdy, Friend" and this pass word will work magical wonders.

He also says:

Reduced railroad rates have been granted for the celebration by Texas passenger agents. The rates are: One and onethird fare for round trip from all points within 166 mile radius of Fort Worth; one and onefifth fare from all points in Texas outside this radius.

Tickets will go on sale in Mexia Nov. 10 and are good on all trains reaching Fort Worth on or before the morning of Nov. 11. They expire Nov. 15.

Eager response to plans for entertaining people by the thousands is coming to the various committees. C. C. Miller, chairman of the music committee, receives applications for entrants in the band contest daily. The Gainesville of 149 pieces is the largest musical organization to enter the contest so far.

Three mammoth parades are in state of preparation. One will be a military parade of veterans and soldiers of all the wars which have taken place during the several generations just passed. A big automobile parade will also be staged during the Jubilee, with showings of late models in all the types of cars. The schools, public and private, will parade in costume on the last day of the celebration. A big general picnic, with basket lunch will be another unique feature of the Jubilee.

The business district of Fort Worth will be gaily decorated. Plans for a huge welcome arch, featuring a picture of General Worth, for whom the city is named, and for other festive designs in incandescent lights are in preparation, and the banners and flags of all nations will fly in the air.

The old anvil which rang forth the joy of the city in 1856 when it won its contest over the county seat has been located, and will be beaten during the celebration. The historical committee is finding other precious relics imbued with the spirit and legends of Fort Worth and Texas, and all will be displayed. This committee has also located a granddaughter and great granddaughter of Major Ripley Arnold commander of the old military fort upon which Fort Worth was founded. These descendants of Major Arnold now live in Fort Worth and will have parts in the Jubilee program.

IMMIGRATION BARS ARE UP TO STAY, SAYS HEAD OF MACCABEES SOCIETY

FIRST GLIMPSE OF AMERICA

OVER FROM SCOTLAND

CHICAGO — Immigration bars will never again be entirely let down to the people of all the world.

This is the belief of D. P. Markey, supreme commander of the Maccabees who was interviewed here on the Forward Movement of that nation-wide organization, an Americanization project backed by its membership of nearly 300,000.

"The existing law restricting immigration to 3 per cent expires June 30, 1924. Farsighted officials are seeking the enactment of a new law permitting the admission of 5 per cent of the number of aliens living in the United States in 1890. This will increase the number of aliens admitted annually about 12 per cent but will favor immigration from the United Kingdom, Germany and the Scandinavian countries, nations of the so-called Nordic races which have furnished the basic stock of the American people.

"Under the present law, the bulk of our new newcomers are from Southern Europe and the Near East. It is believed that this influx of 'cheap labor' has caused the pronounced reduction in immigration from Northern Europe. With proper revision of the law, I believe the Nordic peoples will be stimulated into emigrating to America."

The Forward Movement is a concerted effort among the Maccabees to teach the principles of American citizenship and respect for American institutions to all peoples under the flag, native and foreign-born alike. The Maccabees are one of the oldest and most influential fraternal societies in the United States and have recently placed their philanthropic activities on a national basis.

PALACE STOVES NOW USED TO COOK FOR POOR CHILDREN

By GUS M. OEHM

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The stoves that once cooked the meals of the Hohenzollerns today prepare food for hundred of hungry little children of poverty-stricken families in Berlin.

At least a portion of propaganda for the opening up of the famous castle of Kaiser Wilhelm at the end of Unter den Linden for practical purposes has been effective. The great kitchens where once the food of royalty was prepared have been placed at the disposal of Austrian relief organizations, which are opening community food dispensing agencies throughout Germany.

The work under the leadership of Frau Dr. Gema Schwarzwald of Vienna, is in return for similar aid given Austria during her trying days just following the armistice.

Food for from 3,000 to 4,000 persons may be prepared at one time in the big kitchens of the castle which, until opened for relief purposes, were unused since the Hohenzollerns left the castle so suddenly in early November, 1918. Last summer a big hotel proposed to lease the kitchens from the Republican Government, but was turned down when rooms for restaurant purposes were also demanded.

Wanted to Live in Castle.

Last summer a movement was organized by the Socialist press demanding that the castle be utilized for apartments for the house-hunting folks of Berlin. This was unsuccessful, a portion of the castle having long since been used as a museum, though most of the 700 rooms are locked to public gaze.

The castle attendants, who keep it in order and handle the museum crowds, etc., occupy servant quarters. It is necessary to keep a large personnel on duty, for window washing job alone being quite a task for 500 huge windows demanding a good cleansing.

In winter only twenty-nine of the rooms are heated. For this purpose huge piles of coal are stored in the great open court behind the statue of Knight George, who killed the dragon. After passing the coal trucks have entered space in the cellars to store them, wet paint, fresh rooms have been occupied by many organizations, including the American Quaker Relief Organization, which has practically closed out its offices here. Much of the paintings, silver and linen have been taken away, some to other museums. Much of the furniture has been removed, the exiled Kaiser having taken many truck loads of it to Holland.

Vorwaerts, leading Socialist paper, recently demanded that the Government put aside sentimentality and turn the castle to financial gain "The city needs money," the paper declares, urging the use of the castle for apartments, which would not only bring great revenue, but greatly aid in solving the vexing housing problem of Berlin.

RHEUMATISM Leaves You Forever

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H Allen, the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. All druggists can supply you.—(Adv)

Fight Managers O. K. Says Farrell

By HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Johnny Dundee, world's featherweight champion, has taken unto himself a manager. That, in itself is not strange, because a manager is a standard part of boxing equipment, but it is interesting in the case of Dundee, because for years he "went on his own."

Several years ago Dundee cut away from Scotty Monteith, the clever manager, who had brought out and made one of the greatest fighters in the ring. Like many other boxers do, Dundee got to the point where he thought it was an unnecessary expense to have a manager cutting in on 25 per cent of his earnings and, believing that he could handle his own affairs, Dundee dismissed his manager.

Now that his earning capacity has been doubled or trebled with the possession of a world's championship, Dundee's actions in signing up Jimmy Johnson, a high-priced manager, to do his business for him, is an obvious admission that he found himself unfit to do both the fighting and the handling of his business.

It has long been debated whether managers are an influence for good or bad with a boxer. There are examples to support both sides of the argument, but there are vastly more boxers who have succeeded with managers than those who have gone it alone to the top.

Johnny Kilbane, former world's featherweight champion, was perhaps the most prominent example of a boxer who succeeded in handling his own affairs. No boxer in the history of the game got more out of the investment of such little time and labor as Kilbane did, but his was a very unusual case. Crafty business brains are very seldom any part of a boxer's equipment.

Kilbane cut away from Jimmy Dunn and he remarked when he retired from the ring, that he thought Dunn was the greatest developer and trainer of boxers in the business, but he had too much on his hands to give the proper attention to the business end of the game.

Jack Dempsey certainly would not have gone as far in the heavyweight division if he had not been guided by Jack Kearns, the greatest of all managers. Dempsey had the natural ability to reach the heavyweight championship without much guidance, but he certainly would not have commanded the fee for his services that Kearns was able to get for him.

Benny Leonard might have become the lightweight champion with some manager other than Billy Gibson, but it is very doubtful. Leonard is gracious enough to give Gibson the full credit for his rise to the top.

Jack Britton owed much to Dan Morgan for bringing to him the world's welterweight championship and a fortune that has made him carefree for the rest of his days.

Georges Carpentier never would have made his fortune or gained the fame that he earned with a manager less shrewd and canny than Francois Descamps.

There are as many examples, or perhaps more, of boxers who suffered by poor management. Eugene Criqui's case was the most recent. Criqui won the world's featherweight championship and lost it in the short space of two months. No smart American manager would have allowed him to take on a dangerous challenger in his first fight as a champion.

True, Criqui was forced to post a forfeit of $10,000 that he would meet Dundee in his next fight before he was allowed to fight Kilbane, but he could have gone back to France and forfeited his money. He was blackjacked by unfair methods into the agreement and it would not have been a breach of faith to demand a fair chance as the champion.

Methodist Hold Last Quarterly Meet, Oct. 28th

Presiding Elder C. A. Bickley of the Corsicana District, in which Mexia is located, is writing local members of the First Methodist Church and other Methodists in this section as follows:

"We approach the close of another Conference Year with Gratitude to God for both material and spiritual blessings. God has been gracious to us. May our gratitude to Him be shown by loyally standing by His church. Our goal is 100 per cent on salaries and Conference Collections in every charge We look to our faithful stewards whose efforts alone can make this possible."

The Board of Stewards of the church here will hold the regular weekly business session at the church tonight, and it is hoped that they will be able to submit reports which will point encouragingly to full collections here.

Presiding Elder Bickley also has called attention to the date of the Fourth Quarterly conference in Mexia which will be held October 28.

The members who have not been seen about their pledges and assessments for church expenses are urged to send their checks at once either to A. H. Berry, chairman of the board, or to J. Frank Cogdell, secretary.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS,

To the Sheriff of any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon S. W. Johnson, J. W. McWilliams, H. P. Tate by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Limestone County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, Texas, on the First Monday in November, A. D. 1923, the same being the 5th day of November, A.D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 12th day of October, A. D. 1923, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 4007-B, wherein A. E. Rosson and J. L. Cogdell are Plaintiffs and S. W. Johnson, O. L. Lusk, W. R. Jones, J. W. McWilliams, H. P. Tate, and Texas Trust Company are Defendants, and said petition alleging that on January 21, 1921, plaintiffs jointly executed a drilling contract and contract for leases to be executed and delivered to defendant, S. W. Johnson; that said contract is of record in Volume 141, page 206, deed records of Limestone County, Texas. That in pursuance of said contract plaintiffs did execute and deliver to S. W. Johnson (whose initials in A. E. Rosson instrument by inadvertence were reversed and show as W. S. Johnson) Oil and Gas leases covering Blocks or lots 5, 7, 13, 18, 19, 26, 27 and South half of Lots 20 and 25 and 200 acres out of the P. Lloyd and D. Varela surveys, together with lots 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55 and 57 (as shown by map and plat of the A. E. Rosson 1073 acre ranch and a portion of the J. L. Cogdell Estate. That the total acreage of both leases was 684 acres, 400 being out of the Rosson land and 284 out of J. L. Cogdell Estate, that the lease contracts are recorded in the deed records of Limestone County, Texas, in Vol. 112, page 173, and Vol. 113, page 387, which records give complete discriptions of the lands leased. Each of said leases provides as follows: "Should the first well drilled on the above described land be a dry hole, then and in that event if a second well is not begun on said land within twelve months thereafter, this lease shall terminate as to both parties, unless the lessee, on or before the expiration of said twelve months, shall resume the payment of rental in the same manner as hereinbefore provided."

That said S. W. Johnson and his assigns did drill one well on said lands in accordance with the conditions of said drilling contract and leases; that said well was finished and abandoned before and on the 18th day of August, 1921, same being a dry hole or non-producing well.

That no other well was begun on said premises until more than one year after the abandonment of said well on August 18th, 1921; that no one paid any rental on said land or any portion of it, on or before the expiration of one year after the said abandonment, nor has any one paid a rental thereon until this day, thereby forfeiting all rights under the said leases.

Plaintiffs further aver that said S. W. Johnson and his assigns assigned to defendants W. R. Jones, O. L. Lusk, J. W. McWilliams and Texas Trust Company, at several and diverse times various and diverse interests in various and different and in overlapping acreages covered by the above said leases and leased premises; that though some of them have assigned portions of their interest and released parts of their respective interests, yet each party named still holds in his name certain purported respective interests in parts of the above said premises and leased acreage, having failed and refused to release same in accordance with the law applying to lessees and their releasing such interest on forfeiture of same or an abandonment of efforts to develop same. That said H. P. Tate avers certain interests existing under a memorandum agreement between himself and W. C. Rosson, who had no legal right or power to bind said plaintiffs or either of them, thereby deriving no interest under any instrument of writing given and executed by W. C. Rosson.

Plaintiffs aver that they have been damaged in a sum of $500.00 in that they expended money and attorney fees in bringing this suit as well as loss of time to themselves, all of which damage amounts to $500.00 or more.

Wherefore, premises considered, plaintiffs pray the court that citation issue to defendants, and that upon a hearing that they be granted judgment declarng all said leases to S. W. (W. S.) Johnson, together with all assignments under said leases or either of them, null and void and of no further force or effect, and for judgment in the sum of $500.00 as damages against defendants for their having failed and refused to relaese their purported interests in and to said lands, and for their costs in this behalf incurred and such other relief as they may be entitled.

Herein Fail Not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Groesbeck Texas, this the 12 day of October, A. D. 1923.

PICK POCKETS ARE GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

How To Reduce Varicose Veins

Rub Gently and Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first class drug store and apply it night and morning as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Moone's Emerald Oil is extensively used in hospitals and in factories as first aid to the injured. It is a harmless, yet most powerful germicide and two ounces lasts a very long time.

Indeed, so powerful, is Emerald Oil that soft bunches, goitre, swollen glands and wens are reduced It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. Your druggist can supply you.—(Adv.)

Will Cogdell, who once lived in this county, now a prominent citizen of Hereford in Western Texas, has been in the county for several days visiting his brothers, J. L. and J. Frank Cogdell.

Cotton Receipts For Mexia, 1923

Roy Stokes, public weigher for Mexia, states that he has weighed to date this year 3800 bales of cotton and that about 500 bales have been weighed elsewhere. He estimates that the total for this year will be about 4500 bales, a little less than last season, but the better price will more than offset the shortage in the crop.

A CALOMEL YOU CAN SAFELY TAKE

Harshness of Ordinary Calomel Eliminated in Pepsinated Calomel, New English Calomel Treatment for Torpid Liver.

How many times have you heard that "calomel is the only sure way to reach the liver?" Your grandfather knew it, your mother knew it, your doctor knows it—you know it yourself! Calomel is the certain way to stimulate liver to healthy activity, but ordinary calomel is so harsh in its consequence that you can hardly be blamed for not wanting to take it.

There is no reason to deprive yourself of the fine effects of calomel since the discovery of Pepsinated Calomel. It is the best imported English calomel treated with pepsin. It has all the cleansing power of English Calomel, (recognized as the standard of purity), with the soothing qualities of pepsin so that you get the full benefit of calomel without griping, nausea or discomfort. Pepsinated Calomel is especially fine for children. They willingly take it when they cannot be bribed into taking disagreeable medicine.

Bennett's Drug Store and all reliable druggists recommend and guarantee Pepsinated Calomel to bring relief between sundown and sunup or your money refunded. Try it—we guarantee you'll feel better tomorrow. (Adv.)

Tells Sufferers How to End Piles Forever

It has remained for a well known Rochester doctor to find a real remedy for Piles. Years of patient, painstaking effort on his part has resulted in a prescription that will actually heal Piles and absorb them never to return.

This doctor says no man or woman need suffer another hour from any pain arising from Hemorrhoids or Piles now that he has made arrangements with leading druggists to disperse this wonderful prescription known as MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES for a moderate price on the money back if dissatisfied plan

You'll be amazed to see how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in an hour; even in cases of long standing with profuse bleeding really wonderful results have been accomplished. —(Adv.)

ALICE ADAMS' TRUE TO STAR'S PROMISE

When Florence Vidor announced that she would put Booth Tarkington's prize novel, "Alice Adams," on the screen she declared that she would make her Alice Adams Booth Tarkington's Alice Adams. "In fact, I hope," she said, "when the first scene is flashed, it will seem as if this great story teller is dipping his pen into the ink and inscribing the drama upon the screen."

Miss Vidor has kept her word! Even as the book, the photoplay begins with early morning in the household where we start the th the convalescent head of the house, Virgil Adams, with his trained nurse; Mrs. Adams in her wrapper and mornuing cap; Walter reading the paper and eating breakfast while their negro maid-of-all-work grumbles; and lastly Alice posing before the triple mirrors of her dressing table.

Straight through the book the picture goes. There is the Palmer's ball to which Alice is unwillingly escorted by her brother; there is the walk with Russell and their meeting with Walter; Alice's and Russell's evning on the porch; Mrs. Adams' incessant nagging of her husband; his arguments; the heavy dinner on a hot night with father in his evening clothes; Walter's disgrace; the glue factory and then Russell's disillusionment and Alice's realization of the real way to build her life. In every delightfully human and amusingly serious or seriously amusing detail "Alice Adams" on the screen is Booth Tarkington's "Alice Adams" in words. This is to the tremendous credit of Rowyand V. Lee, who adapted and directed the picture.

"Alice Adams" should certainly be visited, not only be very natural photoplay lover, but especially by those who are for only the exceptional screen offering. It is one of the new Encore Pictures released by Associated Exhibitors and will be the attraction at the National Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

You are hereby commanded, that you summon by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Limestone if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, Jesse Bond and Abe Goodman whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. County Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the County of Limestone, on the 5th day of November, A. D. 1923, same being first Monday in November, 1923, at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court, on the 25th day of July A. D. 1923, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 948, wherein D. A. Kerzee is plaintiff, and Jesse Bond and Abe Goodman are defendants.

The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, towit:

Plaintiff alleges, that on October 25th, 1922 defendants made, executed and delivered to this plaintiff their certain promissory note for the sum of $633 17, payable to the order of plaintiff at Mexia, Texas, due and payable on the 10th day of March, 1923 bearing interest at rate of 10% a year from its date until paid, and providing for 10% additional on the amount of principal and accrued interest as attorneys fee and to pay all expenses of collection and costs of court, if it should not be paid at maturity, whereby defendants became liable and bound, individually and collectively, to plaintiff and promised to pay to plaintiff the sum of money specified in said note, all accrued interest, and attorney fees and costs of collection, including court costs, according to the tenor and effect thereof.

That plaintiff has placed said note in the hands of attorneys for collection and has contracted and agreed to pay them 10% stipulated for in said note, same being reasonable and the usual and customary attorney fee in such matters. That said note is past due and unpaid; and defendants, though often requested, have failed and refused heretofore and now fail and refuse to pay said note or any part of it, to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $1000.00, in that he has lost his principal sum, his interest thereon and the investment and earning power of said principal and interest since March 10th, last, and has contracted to pay the attorney fee provided for in said note and is under obligations to pay the court costs, etc.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays the court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition, and that he have judgment for his principal sum of $633.17, for interest thereon since October 25th, 1923 at rate of 10% a year, for his attorney fees as provided for in said note, for his costs of suit, for all costs expended in this behalf, and for his damages over and above these items, making a total judgment of $1000.00, and for such other and further relief, general and special, in equity and in law that plaintiff may be justly and legally entitled to, and in honor bound will ever pray, etc,

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Groesbeck, this, the 11th day of October, A. D. 1923.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS,

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon J. R. Alford by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Limestone County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, Texas, on the first Monday in November A. D. 1923, the same being the 5th day of November A. D. 1923, then and there to answer an amended petition filed in said Court on the 4th day of October, A. D. 1923, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 2456, wherein Berry Barnett Grocery Company, a corporation, is plaintiff, and N. F. Ferguson, J. A. Underwood, C. B. Jackson and J. R. Alford are defendants, said petition alleging that N. R. Ferguson, J. A. Underwood and C. B. Jackson are partners and doing business under the firm name of Commercial Hotel Company, and J. R. Alford was doing business under the trade name of the Rex Cafe; that plaintiff at the special instance and request of the defendant, Commercial Hotel Company sold to them on the several dates specified in an account certain goods, wares and merchandise being groceries needed in running said business; that in consideration of the sale of said goods, defendant promised to pay therefor the amount charged in said account, being $604.20; that on October 14, 1921, plaintiff at the instance and request of defendant Rex Cafe sold and delivered to it goods, wares and merchandise which said Rex Cafe agreed to pay to the amount charged therefor same being $620 68, that said cafe was run by J. R. Alford until December 16, 1921, when he sold an interest in said cafe to the Commercial Hotel Company; that at that time said cafe owed this plaintiff the sum of $589.88; that on or about December 16, 1921, J. R. Alford doing business under the name of Rex Cafe being indebted to the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company in the sum of $573.91 the said N. R. Ferguson, and J. R. Alford represented to plaintiff that the said sum of $573.91 would not have to be paid within thirty days if he, the said Ferguson, would purchase an interest in the Rex Cafe; that said Commercial Hotel Company would pay said $573.91 within thirty days; plaintiff agreed to said contract and in pursuance thereof the said Ferguson, Underwood and Jackson purchased an interest in said Cafe and in consideration therefor promised to pay plaintiff and the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company the amount mentioned. That the said J. R. Alford transferred to the Mexia Commercial Hotel Company an interest in the Rex Cafe and placed them in possession thereof.

Plaintiff would show to the Court that on November 8, 1921, and January 13, 1922, the Mexia Wholesale Company sold and delivered to the Rex Cafe certain goods, wares and merchandise being groceries for which said Cafe agreed to pay the amount set out in said account the total being the sum of $620.26; that J. R. Alford at that time was the owner of said Cafe, the said Alford being indebted to a number of persons among whom was the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company who sold to said Commercial Hotel Company the said Rex Cafe, agreed to pay said Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company the indebtedness that the Rex Cafe then owed the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company. And afterwards incurred debts to the amount of $106.35 which it promised to pay the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company. That afterwards the manager of the Rex Cafe gave to said Grocery Company its check for $492.71 which check was turned down and not paid. That on January 14, 1922, said Hotel Company gave a check to said Wholesale Grocery Company for the sum of $106.35 which check was turned down. Plaintiff would show that it has purchased of said Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company for a valuable consideration the indebtedness due said Grocery Company from the Rex Cafe and the Commercial Hotel and the same has not yet been paid and plaintiff is entitled to recover said account.

That all of the said accounts are due and unpaid, and the defendants and each of them have refused to pay any part to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $1845.14.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays the court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition; that upon a trial hereof they have judgment for said $1845.14 with interest cost of suit, and such other and further relief, as it may be entitled.

Herein Fail Not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Groesbeck, Texas, this the 4th day of October, A. D. 1923.

HOME DRESSMAKING

By JEANNE ROLAND
(Copyright 1923 by Pen-Art Service, Inc.)

A Model for Velvet or Satin

The Coat Frock Elegantly Interpreted

The newest features in dress fashions are interpreted here—the flared skirt, coat lines and long, close-fitting sleeves with circular bands at the wrists—and the woman in search of individuality will eagerly adopt them.

For this dress a great variety of ——— might be used. As a rule the latest imported fabrics are quite expensive, so that a happy medium might be found in the fine twills and woolens with soft, short pile. Faille moire is ideal for very dressy wear. The dress calls for 3½ yards of material 54 inches wide or 4¾ yards of faille moire 40 inches wide. The tiers and the frills on the sleeves are bound with bias folds of their own material.

The collar may be lined with self-fabric, if the dress is made of silk. Otherwise crepe de chine or satin should be used. The lining is cut the same shape as the collar. After it is sewed to the collar, turn the outer edge of collar the seam allowance and stitch with one or more rows of machine stitching. Next, baste the collar to the neck edge of the waist, with the right side of the collar to the wrong side of the dress. The seam is on the outside. Stitch, after basting. Baste the outer edge of the lining ⅝ of an inch back from the outer edge of the collar and bast the neck edge of the lining over the seam. Turn under the edges and hem down by hand with fine hemming stitches.

After the collar is attached to the dress, a snap hook may be added at the lower edge, to hold it securely in place. This is always advisable when the collar is longer than the regulation type. Over all, of course is a handsome buckle or braid, ribbon or metal.

Last week got by without any serious upset in dope with the exception of the Longhorn stampede. The Aggies had an easy victory over L. S. U. and Baylor eliminated the Arkansas Razorbacks from the Southwestern Conference Championship by defeating them 14 to 0. Looks like Texas has things her own way in the football world.

Saturday marked the elimination of two conference clubs from the race, and leaves only five teams undefeated for the bunting.

Zev, conquerer of Papyrus, and My Own Admiral Grayson's colt will settle their rivalry for America's three year old crown in the Latonia championship at Latonia, Ky., on November 3, unless there is an upset in the present plans. Matt Winn, general manager of the Latonia track says that he will increase the value of the championship stake there from $24,000 to $50,000 if both Zev and My Own go to the post.

Georgia Tech goes to South Bend next Saturday to face the wonder team of Notre Dame on their own grounds. Guess the Yellowjackets feel like they are about to enter a lions den. Notre Dame has conquered both the Navy and Princeton so far.

Announcement from New York is that Babe Ruth has signed a contract to appear in vaudeville this winter on the Orpheum circuit. His tour is to begin about the first of November.

Filipino Uprising Is Feared in Manila.

Above is shown Senor Manuel Queon, whose activities in the Philippines against the administration of Governor-General Leonard Wood are said to have fanned strong anti-American sentiment and an uprising is feared in Manila. So strong is the sentiment for independence that General Wood made a tour of America to talk against granting it to the Filipinos at this time.

Alleged Flogging Dentist's Trial Goes to the Jury

MACON, Ga., Oct. 23.—The trial of Dr. C. A. Yarbrough, prominent dentist charged with responsibility for a series of floggings in Bibb county probably will go to the jury tomorrow night.

The city indicated it would rest its case after a few minor witnesses at the session this morning and the defense will conclude tomorrow morning.

Dr. Yarbrough has been tried twice before in connection with the reign of terror here by masked mob and little new evidence has been presented against him.

BACK HOME AGAIN

The Ferguson Stock company made good to a full house that witnessed a performance there when last night, it staged Marie Correlli's wonderful story of the northland, "Thelma." The performance as a whole, was probably the best work shown by the company, and the scenic effects, calling into play the most elaborate electrical display said to have ever been attempted on a local stage gave a finish to the efforts of the cast which left nothing lacking to complete the performance.

The cast throughout showed personal adaptability to the respective roles, and the many dramatic situations, following quickly one upon the other in every scene, kept the audience on edge from first to last curtain.

The Spanish Troubadours added an important and popular phase to the program.

Tonight will be the last performance of this wonderful play. Starting tomorrow night the Ferguson Brothers presents the play of international fame. "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde."

WALTON ACCUSED OF BUYING GOVERNORSHIP

Fighting Breaks Out In Hamburg Germany

Commissioner's Of Banking Testimony Is Heard

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 23.—"Black Gold" paved the way for Walton to the governor's chair, according to the testimony of Dr. E. T. Bynum, former banking commissioner and adviser to the governor, before the House impeachment committee. The reading of Bynum's testimony consumed the morning session.

Lynch To Be Asked Why He Won't Fight

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—After having slapped his hands with official reprimands, suspensions and used up all the punishment that the law makes legal the New York Boxing Commission is about ready to give up the attempt to make Joe Lynch be a good champion.

Lynch, the bantamweight champion, is to be summoned before the commission today to explain why he would not fight Joe Burman, the Chicago challenger, last week.

Lynch, claiming that he had dislocated his shoulder when he tripped over his pet dog and fell, refused to go on with Burman. The commission doctor said that nothing was drong with his shoulder and Lynch's doctor said he had a subglenoid dislocation.

The doctors will be summoned with Lynch this afternoon and the customary rules of the commission about "clean breaks" will prevail. None of the principals have to make weight and only reputation and no titles will be at stake. Lynch isn't much worried about the hearing. He openly laughs at the commission with the attitude, "well, what are you going to do about it?"

If the commission had a sense of humor, the members of the board probably would join with the champion in the laugh because they can't do anything about it.

Lynch was suspended previously for refusing to fight Burman and the Chicago boy was vested with the "New York title." Lynch then declined to be a good boy and the suspension was lifted when he agreed to accept Burman's challenge.

The champion then ran out of the match again and Burman was given the title again. Abe Goldstein, a timid little New Yorker, was substituted for Lynch and surprised everyone by beating Burman.

Goldstein is now the world champion in New York and Lynch with his "lame shoulder" and all his other ailments, could beat Goldstein with one hand. At least six bantams acbut New York could beat the new champion.

If the commission suspends Lynch again it will have to accept Goldstein as the world champion and the commission naturally feels that such a ruling would be rather funny to say the least.

SEPARATIST BOUNDARY IS DEFINED

BRUSSELS, Oct. 23.—Messages from Duren today forecast that the boundaries of the separatist State will include all German territory on the left bank of the Rhine and an area extending 33 miles on the right bank, beginning at the Baden frontier.

Aix La Chapelle dispatches said the Rhineland Republic continues to extend its sway with little bloodshed.

Aix is quite but it is feared clashes are imminent.

Capture of Bonn is expected momentarily.

The separatists are declaring openly that they will carry out scheduled major movements today.

Charge Arson and Murder to Two New Yorkers

W. H. Ford and James R. Lynch.

W. H. Ford, a New York real estate broker, is held on a charge of arson and murder in connection with the deaths of six persons in a fire which destroyed, a frame dwelling house in Brooklyn. James R. Lynch, 25, an accountant, was held as a material witness. The police charge a diabolical crime, alleging Ford sought only the death of George F. Keim, his wealthy father-in-law, who boarded there. Ford and Keim, whose fortune was estimated at $500,000, had quarreled over business transactions. To kill Keim, the police allege, Ford killed five others.

Impeachment Balloting To Begin Today

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 23.—Balloting upon the first of the impeachment charges made against Governor J. C. Walton will not start before late today, anti-Walton leaders indicated.

Reading of the testimony collected by the Disney-Tolbert House investigating committee will consume the greater part of the day's session which started at 9 o'clock, Chairman Disney declared today.

Considerable time was expected to be taken in the balloting since each charge will be voted on separately, Thomas Wren, Okfuskee county, House member, stated today.

Suspension of the Governor pending disposal of charges filed in the Senate from the House will become effective with formal notification of the executive that charges have been filed Wren declared.

In event Walton is suspended, Lieutenant-Governor M. E. Trapp will act as Governor pending the disposal of the charges, it was indicated.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hughes are expected home within the next few days after a vacation spent in New York City.

WAR TIME LEADER OF BRITAIN PLACES WREATH ON PRESIDENT HARDING'S TOMB AT MARION

By LAWRANCE MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

MARION, Ohio, Oct. 23.—Lloyd George, war-time British Premier, came to Marion today to place a wreath on the tomb of the late President Harding and pay his respects to the late President's widow.

The train from Indianapolis arrived before dawn. A party of Marion citiezns, all old friends and schoolmates of the late Warren G. Harding, were to meet the former Premier at his train at 7:30, and escort him through the little city by auto.

The party was to stop first at Marion Cemetery and then go on to White Oak Farm, where Mrs. Florence Harding is living with the family of Dr. C. E. Sawyer, personal physician to her late husband.

Although he expected to spend only 45 minutes in Marion, Lloyd George was eager to learn all about the little community's history and institutions. He was up long before the delegation of Marion citizens was due at his train

15 Killed And One Hundred Wounded In Clashes

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—Fifteen killed and one hundred wounded at Hamburg today in fighting between communists and police, dispatches here state. The communists, aided by women, stormed police stations and attemped to gain control of the city. Latest reports said they are being repulsed. A torpedo boat was sent from Kiel and is expected to put down the disorders.

ARMY IN SAXONY

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The army sent by the Central Government to occupy Saxony and support General von Mueller in suppressing Communist activities reached its post today almost without bloodshed.

Except for the brief clash at Miessen when troops arrested Communists suspected of firing on them from houses, the situation was quiet.

General Mueller today was conferring with bankers who agreed to finance supplies of potatoes to be distributed throughout the district.

Reichwehr troops were moved swiftly in eighty trains and brought the strength in Saxony to 50,000. With this force General Mueller believed he could control the situation. A secret session of the Reichsrat, which to some extent corresponds to the American Senate, was hurriedly called for Wednesday to discuss the Bavarian situation.

It was reported in Munich that General Kressenstein has been offered the post formerly held by General von Lossow as dictator for the Bavaria district but had declined.

Minister of Defense Gessler and General von Seeckt were reported ready to resign on "technical grounds."

Their resignations would be interpreted as a surrender to Dr. von Kahr, Bavaria's own dictator, who demanded Gessler's resignation after the Federal Government had yielded to the Socialists by recalling von Lossow.

Von Kahr in an interview today accussed the Central Government of wilfully misguiding public opinion and said it was under Marxian Socialist influences. He pictured Bavaria as the champion of German patriotism against these influences.

"If the Stresemann Cabinet now sought to arouse the nation against the French enemy, it would hardly succeed on account of its previous dishonorable negotiations with France," von Kahr declared.

The Thuringian government announced increased protection would be maintained along the borders "to protect against any attempt at invasion from Bavaria." it also warned that no formation of private military units in the State would be tolerated.

The Central Government took a further step in its drastic currency measures today when it reestablished the system of fixing an arbitrary exchange rate at which all transactions in "valuta"—buying and selling of currencies must be made.

It also forbade food shops to close and established heavy penalties for persons caught plundering.

Issue of a stable currency will be made at the earliest date possible, it was announced.

Police were called to forty places in the Berlin area to stop outbursts of plundering.

Thousands of persons gathered in crowds in the city and suburbs menacing food shops but police dispersed them without serious clashes.

One of the main markets in Berlin had to be closed to prevent the crowds from attempting to storm it.

VIERSEN OCCUPIED BY SEPARATISTS

BRUSSELS, Oct. 23.—Aix La Chapelle dispatches say separatist forces occupied Viersen, a railroad town northwest of Dusseldorf today. After proclaiming a republic there they marched on to Crefeld and occupied that town. Conflicts were reported in places close to Aix between separatists and police but details were still indefinite. One manufacturing district was reported afire.

Ten persons were reported injured in a clash between separatists and crowds around the City Hall in Coblenz, when the separatists attempted to take over the city administration.

Dispatches from Eschweiller said separatists had successfully occupied the city and taken over the public buildings there.

The Nowlin Post of the American Legion held one of its most entertaining luncheons at Post headquarters at noon today. An "Army Day" meal was served in cafeteria style. There was plenty of "Corn Willie," beans and other famous fighting foods in quantities that enabled all who desired to secure "seconds."

The speaker of the occasion was Ben B. Hunt, an attorney of this city, who delivered an inspirational patriotic address on the first words of the Preamble of the Constitution of the American Legion: "For God and Country."

The meeting was presided over by Post Commander Owen F. Watkins.

He appointed a committee to arrange for an armistice day program in Mexia, urging the committee to seek the co-operation of the churches and schools of this city in the endeavor. The committee designated was as follows: A. Garland Adair, Dr. Marion Brown and Mrs. Vick Shores.

Also a committee was appointed to arrange the programs for the next four weeks, as follows: Z. Rochelle, A. Garland Adair and Mrs. E. A. Teter.

It was also decided to hold a Halloween dinner at 7:00 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon.

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—Dispatches from Bonn today said separatist forces arrived there at 2 a. m. and stormed the City Hall only to be repulsed by the police.

Police fired despite orders of the French military, dispatches said.

French troops were rushing up with tanks to stop the fighting.

Late dispatches indicated the separatist movement in the Rhineland had taken a more serious turn than was first anticipated.

200 SEPARATIST ATTACK POLICE AT WIESBADEN

MAYENCE, Oct. 23.—Two hundred separatist troops have attacked Wiesbaden and disarmed the police, occupying all public buildings, it was reported here today.

The separatists repulsed a sharp attack of counter manifestants. Several men were wounded.

Dr. Dorten, one of the chief separatists, has departed for Coblenz, where he is expected to proclaim the Rhineland Republic immediately.

Several villages in the Coblenz bridgehead area already have been occupied.

Social Leader Steals Car and Loses Standing

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 23.—Stanley Dawson's social prestige slumped to zero today, when he was charged in police court here with tampering with a motor car.

According to police Dawson came to Excelsior Springs from Baltimore and became the society favorite of the fashionable resort.

He was handsome and polished, and society women competed for his attentions, police said.

Recently he rented an auto which he failed to return.

"I couldn't pay the rental so I kept the machine," he told the police.

Dawson was held in jail in default of bond. He will be arraigned for preliminary hearing Oct. 31.

A GUIDE FOR NEWSPAPER MEN

An insight into our late President's character will be gained by reading his instructions to reporters and writers on the Marion "Star". They are as follows:

Remember there are two sides to every question. Get them both.

Be truthful. Get the facts.

Mistakes are inevitable, but strive for accuracy. I would rather have one story exactly right than a hundred half wrong. Be decent, be fair, be generous.

Boost—don't knock. There's good in everybody. Bring out the good and never needlessly hurt the feelings of anybody.

In reporting a political gathering give the facts, tell the story as it is, not as you would like to have it. Treat all parties alike. If there is any politics to be played, we will play it in our editorial columns. Treat all religious matters reverently.

If it can possibly be avoided, never bring ignominy to an innocent man or child in telling of the misdeeds or misfortunes of a relative.

Don't wait to be asked, but do it without the asking, and above all be clean and never let a dirty word or suggestive story get into type. I want this paper so conducted that it can go into any home without destroying the innocence of any child.

HOW CAN A POOR MAN GET AHEAD?

The Tale of the Lonesome Bond and the Business Woman Who Is Seeking a Mate for It.

(This is the Fifth of twelve true stories of wage earners and salaried men and women who have found the road to financial independence.)

By SAMUEL O. RICE, Educational Director
Investment Bankers Association of America

A business woman, formerly a school teacher but now employed in the offices of a large publicity utility company, gave her experience as a small investor to be the fifth in this series showing how average, everyday folks can get ahead.

"I bought Liberty Bonds during the war, $100 of every issue," said the business woman. "Somehow I thought so much of them I couldn't bear the idea of sacrificing them for a fur coat or a trip to California, as some of the other girls in the office did. But after I had them paid for I ceased systematic saving. I put away a few dollars only when I didn't want anything very badly or had earned extra money.

"Even haphazard and meager savings accumulated $300 in three years. I hadn't thought much about investing it until a salesman for automobile stock tried to interest me. His stock was $10 a share. I didn't bite because that salesman was the same man who had taken the first $50 I ever saved. He gave me another kind of automobile stock for it, after he had shown me how rich I would be if I could have put $50 into General Motors, Ford or other automobile business. My $50 of stock had paid one dividend, $5 and then hit bottom. I lost $50, and all my dreams of a safe, 10 per cent investment.

"Somebody suggested putting my $300 into bonds. Probably I am stupid but it never occurred to me that ordinary folks could buy bonds, except Liberties, perhaps. I spoke to the boss. He referred me to an established investment banking house. They told me I could buy a $500 bond by paying my $200 and then $20 for nine months and about $15 the tenth month. In less than a year the bond was all mine and now every 15th of March and September I clip a coupon from that bond and get $17.50 real money for it.

"I figured out the other day that when that bond matures in 1942 it will have paid me $700 and will still be worth $500. And if something dreadful should happen I can take that bond to the bank and get money on it. I am saving $25 a month now to get a companion for my $500 bond. It's lonesome."

PALACE THEATRE

Harry Feldman and Jack Wylie as Abie and Bozo were a scream from start to finish and never has there been two as clever comedians here as these two.

Little Agnes Geary the Electric Spark with her beautiful costumes and her rendition of the Joy Man Blues was one of the outstanding hits of the performance.

Harry Feldman offered songs and dances and scored the individual hit of the evening.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday Mr. Feldman will present a laughing, rip roaring farce entitled "Step This Way" in which Abie and Bozo will be seen to their best advantage, and the chorus of American beauties will offer new dances.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

GERMANY

State Press in Dallas News.

Mexia News: An Oklahoma automobile mechanic has fallen heir to a share in an estate in Germany worth $30,000,000. Is it possible that there is that much real money in Germany? But maybe the man who made that much money was also in the auto repair business.

There is as much real property in Germany as there ever was. The war destroyed none of it. No fire, flood or earthquake has wrecked the German establishment. The fields, forests, mines, factories, railways, cities, men, women and children that were Germany are still Germany. What has happened in Germany is financial decay. The rulers of Germany were bad guessers and maladroit statesmen. They set to work systematically to bankrupt their own Government and impoverish that large portion of the population which owned only paper securities and capacity for work. Those who owned no houses or other real property have been ruined by the ruinous policy of their own rulers, labor being ruined by adulterated wages and the paper security holders and professional classes by losing their savings. Germany could recover, in so far as earning its daily bread day by day is concerned, if it would. The German people have skill, equipment, industrious habits and scientific ability. But politicians have played with the fate of Germany, and the people have been reduced to beggary. Some time the force of common sense will begin to play upward from the bottom in Germany, as in Russia, and the futile statecraft which has frivoled with the destinies of a great population will be cast into the discord and men now unknown will restore order and intelligence. If those called to authority in Germany after the armistice had been as ealous in meeting the treaty obligations they assumed as they have been in trying to avoid them, Germany would not today be writhing in pain and wailing in despair. She would, on the contrary, be showing the world how a defeated nation can triumph over the loss of a war. Our own South did that. Germany might have done.

Courtesy is a big word in any business. Many a firm has paved the way to financial ruin and ultimate bankruptcy by being discourteous to patrons. Many a discourteous salesman has driven business not only away from the establishment in which employed but from the town through his attitude toward the prospective customer. It may be that the patron only wanted a spool of thread, but the manner in which it was delivered to him determined whether or not he was to remain a customer

It was said that during the oil boom many farmers came to Mexia who wanted to make only very small purchases and in some instances, in one or two places, salesmen would pass them by to wait on a man who wanted to spend a larger sum. This was bad advertising for Mexia and the farmer so mistreated went home and told his family. They told their neighbors and so the report spread until every business man in Mexia has had to suffer loss of thousands of dollars.

Mexia business men are now on their guard. They know the value of that word "Courtesy". It costs little effort to extend it, but my, how it does pull.

Letters from People

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

In selecting its membership from a particular class of persons, the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in no-wise reflects upon those who do not belong to that class. This however, does not mean that the class which is not eligible to membership does not have within it those who, despite their great cry against the Klan for its "un-Americanism" fully take the law into their own hands and attempt, by coercion, intimidation, assault and even murder, to destroy the Klan.

The daily press is filled with news of assults on Klan parader, Klan meetings and indivadual Klansmen. In view of this fact, just which class of the two mentioned above is the law violator? Surely the Klan is not violating the law because its meetings are fired upon; it can hardly be said that the Klan is breaking the law when their parade is stoned. Klansmen who are murdered certainly have not transgressed the law by dying by the bullet fired or the knife wielded by one opposed to the Klan.

The list of the outrages against Klansmen is so long that it would take weeks to compile even an incomplete list. However, the more recent and outstanding incidents are the murder of Robert Watson, of Indianapolis; the murder of the Klansmen who was shot down in Pittsburgh as he marched in a parade. The assault by a mob on visiting Klansmen in Steubenville; the two men who were shot at Rushville as they sat listening to a speech at an alleged Klan meeting; the shooting of a Klansman as a parade started in Burlington, Indiana; the concerted assault on an alleged Klan meeting in East Chicago was most certainly not made by Klansmen.

The kidnaping of a cripple, an alleged Klansman, at Cincinnati, recently, and his torture by his captors who afterward threw him from a speeding machine could hardly be "laid at the door of the Klan." At Washington, Indiana, a man is now awaiting trial for the murder of a Klansman; at Knox, an ex-secretary of the Knights of Columbus must face trial for firing on men and women who sat peacefully within a building at an alleged Klan meeting, and wounding two of them.

The aforementioned crimes are but a mere scratch of the surface of the myriad of crimes of which those opposed to the Klan are guilty. In view of the scores of such crimes committed each day throughout the country and against the members of the Ku Klux Klan, it naturally gives rise to the question? "Who are behind those outrages?"

That big class which makes up those who are not eligible to membership in the Klan is composed of foreigners, Catholics, negroes, Americans of bad repute, and Jews. Which of these four divisions produce these criminals? Or, have these four divisions joined hands to make a mockery of law, commit assaults, intimidate and murder human beings? Or rather, have the vicious of each of these four divisions formed into an alliance to perpetrate these outrages?

A man's nationality can usually be determined by his name. Would it not be a good idea for one who wishes to determine who is the most radically opposed to the Ku Klux Klan, to watch the names of those who most vigorously attack the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan? Also one may, after ascertaining one's nationality, determine his religion.

It is, indeed, an interesting study.—The Klan is founded on the word of God.

MANY REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES STILL THREATEN TO OPPOSE REELECTION OF COOLIDGE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Republican leaders who started the Coolidge bandwagon forward two months ago in the hope that it would be the only vehicle in the procession to the national convention of their party in 1924 are visibly chagrined to behold other chariots trailing along with candidates and supporters. It is already foreseen that the President will not constitute the entire parade.

Senator Moses of New Hampshire deserted Senator Hiram Johnson after having promoted him to get into the presidential race and pledged himself to Coolidge. A few outstanding Republicans followed Senator Moses—some with and others without qualification. But Moses has remained silent for weeks and it is beginning to be suspected that he regrets his commitment to President Coolidge as having been too precipitate.

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania is showing his resentment at the fight made on him by Republicans of Massachusetts following the negotiations of the "Pinchot pact" for the stoppage of the coal strike. It is regarded as certain that Governor Pinchot will continue his efforts to impair if not ruin President Coolidge's chances in the Republican convention. If Governor Pinchot can not himself obtain the nomination, it is felt by political observers, he will at least do all he can to open the gates and let other contenders into the field to challenge Mr. Coolidge.

Pronouncements from Senator Hiram Johnson indicate that he still fondly regards himself as the logical leader and presidential choice of the "Progressives." His abandonment by Senator Moses is not deemed to have hurt his original chances, however much it may have hurt his feelings. The Republican delegation from California must be "progressive," Johnson has declared, and this is taken to mean that it must favor and further his candidacy.

In the Middle West there is a quiet but persistent propaganda for former Governor Frank Lowden of Illinois. This is being conducted in part by the Chicago Tribune. The Tribune's Washington correspondent is traveling about through "Lowden territory" to find and exploit symptoms of preference for Lowden. In addition, the Tribune's correspondent is faithfully reporting everything he discovers in derogation of President Coolidge as the next candidate.

On a tour of Iowa, the Tribune's correspondent, reported, he found that "there is little enthusiasm over the President in any part of the State." There was not much sentiment for Hiram Johnson, either, according to this chronicler, but "a good deal everywhere for former Governor Frank O. Lowden." Advocates of Governor Lowden's nomination have been making capital for him by calling attention to the preponderance of Massachusetts in Congress and the Coolidge administration.

"Too Much Massachusetts" is the slogan which is being bandied about in Mr. Lowden's behalf by the Mid-West Review, issued from Aurora, Ill. This publication suggests that its slogan be raised in Washington when Congress convenes. A list of Massachusetts Republicans in important posts is published to show how powerful are its influences in the legislative and administrative branches of the Federal Government.

Senator Watson of Indiana has left the door open in case opportunity should happen along to offer him any encouragement. He has not permitted the record to show that he has eliminated himself in any one else's behalf. He is still available—very still.

It is now believed that the men who control the Republican National Committee will accept President Coolidge as the Republican nominee only on condition that he "unload" the World Court. There have been hints that he has determined to drop the Court. One interpretation of this is that his advisers believe he can't have the support of these powers within the National Committee if he stands by the Court.

Politicians are now convinced that the Republican presidential nomination is no longer a "cinch" for Mr. Coolidge.

Special Rates From Mexia To Diamond Jubilee

Information is being sent out from Fort Worth by Garfield Crawford, Publicity Director of the Diamond Jubilee to be held there November 11-14. Mr. Crawford is well known in Mexia and throughout the oil fields as editor of the National Oil Journal. Some here have thought that the Diamond Jubilee was a baseball celebration of some sort, arranged following the victory of Fort Worth in the Dixie series. Mr. Crawford, however, explains that this is not so but that it is an event in which not only Fort Worth but all Texas is interested.

He says that all a Mexia man or visitor from this section will have to say when they get there will be "Howdy, Friend" and this pass word will work magical wonders.

He also says:

Reduced railroad rates have been granted for the celebration by Texas passenger agents. The rates are: One and onethird fare for round trip from all points within 166 mile radius of Fort Worth; one and onefifth fare from all points in Texas outside this radius.

Tickets will go on sale in Mexia Nov. 10 and are good on all trains reaching Fort Worth on or before the morning of Nov. 14. They expire Nov. 15.

Eager response to plans for entertaining people by the thousands is coming to the various committees. C. C. Miller, chairman of the music committee, receives applications for entrants in the band contest daily. The Gainesville of 149 pieces is the largest musical organization to enter the contest so far.

Three mammoth parades are in state of preparation. One will be a military parade of veterans and soldiers of all the wars which have taken place during the several generations just passed. A big automobile parade will also be staged during the Jubilee, with showings of late models in all the types of cars. The schools, public and private, will parade in costume on the last day of the celebration. A big general picnic, with basket lunch will be another unique feature of the Jubilee.

The business district of Fort Worth will be gaily decorated. Plans for a huge welcome arch, featuring a picture of General Worth, for whom the city is named, and for other festive designs in incandescent lights are in preparation, and the banners and flags of all nations will fly in the air.

The old anvil which rang forth the joy of the city in 1856 when it won its contest over the county seat has been located, and will be beaten during the celebration. The historical committee is finding other precious relics imbued with the spirit and legends of Fort Worth and Texas, and all will be displayed. This committee has also located a granddaughter and great granddaughter of Major Ripley Arnold commander of the old military fort upon which Fort Worth was founded. These descendants of Major Arnold now live in Fort Worth and will have parts in the Jubilee program.

IMMIGRATION BARS ARE UP TO STAY, SAYS HEAD OF MACCABEES SOCIETY

FIRST GLIMPSE OF AMERICA

OVER FROM SCOTLAND

CHICAGO — Immigration bars will never again be entirely let down to the people of all the world.

This is the belief of D. P. Markey, supreme commander of the Maccabees who was interviewed here on the Forward Movement of that nation-wide organization, an Americanization project backed by its membership of nearly 300,000.

"The existing law restricting immigration to 3 per cent expires June 30, 1924. Farsighted officials are seeking the enactment of a new law permitting the admission of 5 per cent of the number of aliens living in the United States in 1890. This will increase the number of aliens admitted annually about 12 per cent but will favor immigration from the United Kingdom, Germany and the Scandinavian countries, nations of the so-called Nordic races which have furnished the basic stock of the American people.

"Under the present law, the bulk of our new newcomers are from Southern Europe and the Near East. It is believed that this influx of 'cheap labor' has caused the pronounced reduction in immigration from Northern Europe. With proper revision of the law, I believe the Nordic peoples will be stimulated into emigrating to America."

The Forward Movement is a concerted effort among the Maccabees to teach the principles of American citizenship and respect for American institutions to all peoples under the flag, native and foreign-born alike. PALACE STOVES NOW USED TO COOK FOR POOR CHILDREN

By GUS M. OEHM
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The stoves that once cooked the meals of the Hohenzollerns today prepare food for hundreds of hungry little children of poverty-stricken families in Berlin.

At least a portion of propaganda for the opening up of the famous castle of Kaiser Wilhelm at the end of Unter den Linden for practical purposes has been effective. The great kitchens where once the food of royalty was prepared have been placed at the disposal of Austrian relief organizations, which are opening community food dispensing agencies throughout Germany.

The work, under the leadership of Frau Dr. Genia Schwarzwald of Vienna, is in return for similar aid given Austria during her trying days just following the armistice.

Food for from 3,000 to 4,000 persons may be prepared at one time in the big kitchens of the castle which, until opened for relief purposes, were unused since the Hohenzollerns left the castle so suddenly in early November, 1918. Last summer a big hotel proposed to lease the kitchens from the Republican Government, but was turned down when rooms for restaurant purposes were also demanded.

Wanted to Live in Castle.

Last summer a move was organized by the Socialist press demanding that the castle be utilized for apartments for the house-hunting folks of Berlin. This was unsuccessful, a portion of the castle having long since been used as a museum, though most of the 700 rooms are locked to public gaze.

The castle attendants, who keep it in order and handle the museum crowds, etc., occupy servant quarters. It is necessary to keep quite a personnel on duty, the window washing job alone being quite an item—980 huge windows demanding periodic cleansing.

In winter only twenty-nine of the rooms are heated. For this purpose huge piles of coke are heaped in the great open court beside the statue of Knight George, who killed the dragon. A few private wine dealers have rented space in the cellars to store their wet goods. Some few rooms have been occupied by public organizations, including the American Quaker Relief Organization, which has practically closed out its offices here. Much of the paintings, silver and linen have been taken away, some to other museums. Much of the furniture has been removed, the exiled Kaiser having taken many truck loads of it to Holland.

Vorwaerts, leading Socialist paper, recently demanded that the Government put aside sentimentality and turn the castle to financial gain. "The city needs money," the paper declares, urging the use of the castle for apartments, which would not only bring great revenue, but greatly aid in solving the vexing housing problem of Berlin.

RHEUMATISM Leaves You Forever

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. All druggists can supply you.—(Adv.)

Fight Managers O. K. Says Farrell

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Johnny Dundee, world's featherweight champion, has taken unto himself a manager. That, in itself is not strange, because a manager is a standard part of boxing equipment, but it is interesting in the case of Dundee, because for years he "went on his own."

Several years ago Dundee cut away from Scotty Monteith, the clever manager, who had brought out and made one of the greatest fighters in the ring. Like many other boxers do, Dundee got to the point where he thought it was an unnecessary expense to have a manager cutting in on 25 per cent of his earnings and, believing that he could handle his own affairs, Dundee dismissed his manager.

Now that his earning capacity has been doubled or trebled with the possession of a world's championship, Dundee's actions in signing up Jimmy Johnson, a high-priced manager, to do his business for him, is an obvious admission that he found himself unfit to do both the fighting and the handling of his business.

It has long been debated whether managers are an influence for good or bad with a boxer. There are examples to support both sides of the argument, but there are vastly more boxers who have succeeded with managers than those who have gone it alone to the top.

Johnny Kilbane, former world's featherweight champion, was perhaps the most prominent example of a boxer who succeeded in handling his own affairs. No boxer in the history of the game got more out of the investment of such little time and labor as Kilbane did, but his was a very unusual case. Crafty business brains are very seldom any part of a boxer's equipment.

Kilbane cut away from Jimmy Dunn and he remarked when he retired from the ring, that he thought Dunn was the greatest developer and trainer of boxers in the business, but he had too much on his hands to give the proper attention to the business end of the game.

Jack Dempsey certainly would not have gone as far in the heavyweight division if he had not been guided by Jack Kearns, the greatest of all managers. Dempsey had the natural ability to reach the heavyweight championship without much guidance, but he certainly would not have commanded the fee for his services that Kearns was able to get for him.

Benny Leonard might have become the lightweight champion with some manager other than Billy Gibson, but it is very doubtful. Leonard is gracious enough to give Gibson the full credit for his rise to the top.

Jack Britton owed much to Dan Morgan for bringing to him the world's welterweight championship and a fortune that has made him carefree for the rest of his days.

Georges Carpentier never would have made his fortune or gained the fame that he earned with a manager less shrewd and canny than Francois Descamps.

There are as many examples, or perhaps more, of boxers who suffered by poor management. Eugene Criqui's case was the most recent. Criqui won the world's featherweight championship and lost it in the short space of two months. No smart American manager would have allowed him to take on a dangerous challenger in his first fight as a champion.

True, Criqui was forced to post a forfeit of $10,000 that he would meet Dundee in his next fight before he was allowed to fight Kilbane, but he could have gone back to France and forfeited his money. He was blackjacked by unfair methods into the agreement and it would not have been a breach of faith to demand a fair chance as the champion.

"40 Years in Mexia"

Methodist Hold Last Quarterly Meet, Oct. 28th

Presiding Elder C. A. Bickley of the Corsicana District, in which Mexia is located, is writing local members of the First Methodist Church and other Methodists in this section as follows:

"We approach the close of another Conference Year with Gratitude to God for both material and spiritual blessings. God has been gracious to us. May our gratitude to Him be shown by loyally standing by His church. Our goal is 100 per cent on salaries and Conference Collections in every charge. We look to our faithful stewards whose efforts alone can make this possible."

The Board of Stewards of the church here will hold the regular weekly business session at the church tonight and it is hoped that they will be able to submit reports which will point encouragingly to full collections here.

Presiding Elder Bickley also has called attention to the date of the Fourth Quarterly conference in Mexia which will be held October 28.

The members who have not been seen about their pledges and assessments for church expenses are urged to send their checks at once either to A. H. Berry, chairman of the board, or to J. Frank Cogdell, secretary.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS,

To the Sheriff of any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon S. W. Johnson, J. W. McWilliams, H. P. Tate by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Limestone County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, Texas, on the First Monday in November, A. D. 1923, the same being the 5th day of November, A.D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 12th day of October, A. D. 1923, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 4007-B, wherein A. E. Rosson and J. L. Cogdell are Plaintiffs and S. W. Johnson, O. L. Lusk, W. R. Jones, J. W. McWilliams, H. P. Tate, and Texas Trust Company are Defendants, and said petition alleging that on January 21, 1921, plaintiffs jointly executed a drilling contract and contract for leases to be executed and delivered to defendant, S. W. Johnson; that said contract is of record in Volume 111, page 206, deed records of Limestone County, Texas. That in pursuance of said contract plaintiffs did execute and deliver to S. W. Johnson (whose initials in A. E. Rosson instrument by inadvertence were reversed and show as W. S. Johnson) Oil and Gas leases covering Blocks or lots 5, 7, 13, 18, 19, 26, 27 and South half of Lots 20 and 25 and 200 acres out of the P. Lloyd and D. Varela surveys, together with lots 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55 and 57 (as shown by map and plat of the A. E. Rosson 1073 acre ranch and a portion of the J. L. Cogdell Estate. That the total acreage of both leases was 684 acres, 406 being out of the Rosson land and 284 out of J. L. Cogdell Estate, that the lease contracts are recorded in the deed records of Limestone County, Texas, in Vol. 112, page 173, and Vol. 113, page 387, which records give complete discriptions of the lands leased. Each of said leases provides as follows: "Should the first well drilled on the above described land be a dry hole, then and in that event if a second well is not begun on said land within twelve months thereafter, this lease shall terminate as to both parties, unless the lessee, on or before the expiration of said twelve months, shall resume the payment of rental in the same manner as hereinbefore provided."

That said S. W. Johnson and his assigns did drill one well on said lands in accordance with the conditions of said drilling contract and leases; that said well was finished and abandoned before and on the 18th day of August, 1921, same being a dry hole or non-producing well.

That no other well was begun on said premises until more than one year after the abandonment of said well on August 18th, 1921; that no one paid any rental on said land or any portion of it, on or before the expiration of one year after the said abandonment, nor has any one paid a rental thereon until this day, thereby forfeiting all rights under the said leases.

Plaintiffs further aver that said S. W. Johnson and his assigns assigned to defendants W. R. Jones, O. L. Lusk, J. W. McWilliams and Texas Trust Company, at several and diverse times various and diverse interests in various and different and in overlapping acreages covered by the above said leases and leased premises; that though some of them have assigned portions of their interest and released parts of their respective interests, yet each party named still holds in his name certain purported respective interests in parts of the above said premises and leased acreage, having failed and refused to release same in accordance with the law applying to lessees and their releasing such interest on forfeiture of same or an abandonment of efforts to develop same. That said H. P. Tate avers certain interests existing under a memorandum agreement between him self and W. C. Rosson, who had no legal right or power to bind said plaintiffs or either of them, thereby deriving no interest under any instrument of writing given and executed by W. C. Rosson.

Plaintiffs aver that they have been damaged in a sum of $500.00 in that they expended money and attorney fees in bringing this suit as well as loss of time to themselves, all of which damage amounts to $500.00 or more.

Wherefore, premises considered, plaintiffs pray the court that citation issue to defendants, and that upon a hearing that they be granted judgment declarng all said leases to S. W. (W. S.) Johnson, together with all assignments under said leases or either of them, null and void and of no further force or effect, and for judgment in the sum of $500.00 as damages against defendants for their having failed and refused to relaese their purported interests in and to said lands, and for their costs in this behalf incurred and such other relief as they may be entitled.

Herein Fail Not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Groesbeck, Texas, this the 12 day of October, A. D. 1923.

PICK POCKETS ARE GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

Only one of the light fingered gentry has been arrested in Houston within the last 18 months, according to Kessler.

How To Reduce Varicose Veins

Rub Gently and Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first class drug store and apply it night and morning as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Moone's Emerald Oil is extensively used in hospitals and in factories as first aid to the injured. It is a harmless, yet most powerful germicide and two ounces lasts a very long time.

Indeed, so powerful, is Emerald Oil that soft bunches, goitre, swollen glands and wens are reduced. It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. Your druggist can supply you.—(Adv.)

Will Cogdell, who once lived in this county, now a prominent citizen of Hereford in Western Texas, has been in the county for several days visiting his brothers, J. L. and J. Frank Cogdell.

Tonight cloudy, Wednesday warmer and increased cloudiness.

A CALOMEL YOU CAN SAFELY TAKE

How many times have you heard that "calomel is the only sure way to reach the liver?" Your grandfather knew it, your mother knew it, your doctor knows it—you know it yourself! Calomel is the certain way to stimulate liver to healthy activity, but ordinary calomel is so harsh in its consequence that you can hardly be blamed for not wanting to take it.

There is no reason to deprive yourself of the fine effects of calomel since the discovery of Pepsinated Calomel. It is the best imported English calomel treated with pepsin. It has all the cleansing power of English Calomel, (recognized as the standard of purity), with the soothing qualities of pepsin so that you get the full benefit of calomel without griping, nausea or discomfort. Pepsinated Calomel is especially fine for children. They willingly take it when they cannot be bribed into taking disagreeable medicine.

Bennett's Drug Store and all reliable druggists recommend and guarantee Pepsinated Calomel to bring relief between sundown and sunup or your money refunded. Try it—we guarantee you'll feel better tomorrow. (Adv.)

Cotton Receipts For Mexia, 1923

Roy Stokes, public weigher for Mexia, states that he has weighed to date this year 3300 bales of cotton and that about 500 bales have been weighed elsewhere. He estimates that the total for this year will be about 4500 bales, a little less than last season, but the better price will more than offset the shortage in the crop.

Tells Sufferers How to End Piles Forever

It has remained for a well known Rochester doctor to find a real remedy for Piles. Years of patient, painstaking effort on his part has resulted in a prescription that will actually heal Piles and absorb them never to return.

This doctor says no man or woman need suffer another hour from any pain arising from Hemorrhoids or Piles now that he has made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription known as MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES for a moderate price on the money back if dissatisfied plan.

You'll be amazed to see how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in an hour; even in cases of long standing with profuse bleeding really wonderful results have been accomplished.—(Adv.)

"ALICE ADAMS" TRUE TO STAR'S PROMISE

When Florence Vidor announced that she would put Booth Tarkington's prize novel, "Alice Adams," on the screen she declared that she would make her Alice Adams Booth Tarkington's Alice Adams. "In fact, I hope," she said, "when the first scene is flashed, it will seem as if this great story teller is dipping his pen into the ink and inscribing the drama upon the screen."

Miss Vidor has kept her word! Even as the book, the photoplay begins with early morning in the [illegible] household where we start the [illegible] with the convalescent head of the house, Virgil Adams, with his trained nurse; Mrs. Adams in her wrapper and mornining cap; Walter reading the paper and eating breakfast while their negro maid-of-all-work grumbles; and lastly Alice posing before the triple mirrors of her dressing table.

Straight through the book the picture goes. There is the Palmer's ball to which Alice is unwillingly escorted by her brother; there is the walk with Russell and their meeting with Walter; Alice's and Russell's evning on the porch; Mrs. Adams' incessant nagging of her husband; his arguments; the heavy dinner on a hot night with father in his evening clothes; Walter's disgrace; the glue factory and then Russell's disilluionment and Alice's realization of the real way to build her life. In every delightfully human and amusingly serious or seriously amusing detail "Alice Adams" on the screen is Booth Tarkington's "Alice Adams" in words. This is to the tremendous credit of Rowyand V. Lee, who adapted and directed the picture.

"Alice Adams" should certainly be visited, not only be very natural photoplay lover, but especially by those who are for only the exceptional screen offering. It is one of the new Encore Pictures released by Associated Exhibitors and will be the attraction at the National Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, that you summon by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Limestone if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, Jesse Bond and Abe Goodman whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. County Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the County of Limestone, on the 5th day of November, A. D. 1923, same being first Monday in November, 1923, at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court, on the 25th day of July A. D. 1923, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 948, wherein D. A. Kerzee is plaintiff, and Jesse Bond and Abe Goodman are defendants.

The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, towit:

Plaintiff alleges, that on October 25th, 1922 defendants made, executed and delivered to this plaintiff their certain promissory note for the sum of $633.17, payable to the order of plaintiff at Mexia, Texas, due and payable on the 10th day of March, 1923 bearing interest at rate of 10% a year from its date until paid, and providing for 10% additional on the amount of principal and accrued interest as attorneys fee and to pay all expenses of collection and costs of court, if it should not be paid at maturity, whereby defendants became liable and bound, individually and collectively, to plaintiff and promised to pay to plaintiff the sum of money specified in said note, all accrued interest, and attorney fees and costs of collection, including court costs, according to the tenor and effect thereof.

That plaintiff has placed said note in the hands of attorneys for collection and has contracted and agreed to pay them 10% stipulated for in said note, same being reasonable and the usual and customary attorney fee in such matters. That said note is past due and unpaid; and defendants, though often requested, have failed and refused heretofore and now fail and refuse to pay said note or any part of it, to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $1000.00, in that he has lost his principal sum, his interest thereon and the investment and earning power of said principal and interest since March 10th, last, and has contracted to pay the attorney fee provided for in said note and is under obligations to pay the court costs, etc.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays the court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition, and that he have judgment for his principal sum of $633.17, for interest thereon since October 25th, 1923 at rate of 10% a year, for his attorney fees as provided for in said note, for his costs of suit, for all costs expended in this behalf, and for his damages over and above these items, making a total judgment of $1000.00, and for such other and further relief, general and special, in equity and in law that plaintiff may be justly and legally entitled to, and in honor bound will ever pray, etc.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Groesbeck, this, the 11th day of October, A. D. 1923.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon J. R. Alford by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive wecks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Limestone County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, Texas, on the first Monday in November A. D. 1923, the same being the 5th day of November A. D. 1923, then and there to answer an amended petition filed in said Court on the 4th day of October, A. D. 1923, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 2456, wherein Berry Barnett Grocery Company, a corporation, is plaintiff, and N. F. Ferguson, J. A. Underwood, C. B. Jackson and J. R. Alford are defendants, said petition alleging that N. R. Ferguson, J. A. Underwood and C. B. Jackson are partners and doing business under the firm name of Commercial Hotel Company, and J. R. Alford was doing business under the trade name of the Rex Cafe; that plaintiff at the special instance and request of the defendant, Commercial Hotel Company sold to them on the several dates specified in an account certain goods, wares and merchandise being groceries needed in running said business; that in consideration of the sale of said goods, defendant promised to pay therefor the amount charged in said account, being $604.20; that on October 14, 1921, plaintiff at the instance and request of defendant Rex Cafe sold and delivered to it goods, wares and merchandise which said Rex Cafe agreed to pay to the amount charged therefor same being $620.68, that said cafe was run by J. R. Alford until December 16, 1921, when he sold an interest in said cafe to the Commercial Hotel Company; that at that time said cafe owed this plaintiff the sum of $589.88; that on or about December 16, 1921, J. R. Alford doing business under the name of Rex Cafe being indebted to the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company in the sum of $573.91 the said N. R. Ferguson, and J. R. Alford represented to plaintiff that the said sum of $573.91 would not have to be paid within thirty days if he, the said Ferguson, would purchase an interest in the Rex Cafe; that said Commercial Hotel Company would pay said $573.91 within thirty days; plaintiff agreed to said contract and in pursuance thereof the said Ferguson, Underwood and Jackson purchased an interest in said Cafe and in consideration therefor promised to pay plaintiff and the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company the amount mentioned. That the said J. R. Alford transferred to the Mexia Commercial Hotel Company an interest in the Rex Cafe and placed them in possession thereof.

Plaintiff would show to the Court that on November 8, 1921, and January 13, 1922, the Mexia Wholesale Company sold and delivered to the Rex Cafe certain goods, wares and merchandise being groceries for which said Cafe agreed to pay the amount set out in said account the total being the sum of $620.26; that J. R. Alford at that time was the owner of said Cafe, the said Alford being indebted to a number of persons among whom was the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company who sold to said Commercial Hotel Company the said Rex Cafe, agreed to pay said Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company the indebtedness that the Rex Cafe then owed the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company. And afterwards incurred debts to the amount of $106.35 which it promised to pay the Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company. That afterwards the manager of the Rex Cafe gave to said Grocery Company its check for $492.71 which check was turned down and not paid. That on January 14, 1922, said Hotel Company gave a check to said Wholesale Grocery Company for the sum of $106.35 which check was turned down. Plaintiff would show that it has purchased of said Mexia Wholesale Grocery Company for a valuable consideration the indebtedness due said Grocery Company from the Rex Cafe and the Commercial Hotel and the same has not yet been paid and plaintiff is entitled to recover said account.

That all of the said accounts are due and unpaid, and the defendants and each of them have refused to pay any part to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $1845.14.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays the court that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition; that upon a trial hereof they have judgment for said $1845.14 with interest cost of suit, and such other and further relief, as it may be entitled.

Herein Fail Not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Give Your Sole a Genuine Treat

You have thrown many a pair of good shoes away just because the soles were worn through. Perhaps the counters were out of shape, and the welts may have been "shot". Don't do it again. No matter what the condition of the shoe, if the upper is good we can rebuild it and make it almost like new. Perhaps there is a pair of shoes in your closet right this minute that need attention. Bring them to us and permit us to advise you. They may be saved, and many more weeks of wear put into them at very small expense. Be thrifty—have 'em repaired.

HOME DRESSMAKING

By JEANNE ROLAND
(Copyright 1923 by Pen-Art Service, Inc.)

A Model for Velvet or Satin

The Coat Frock Elegantly Interpreted

The newest features in dress fashions are interpreted here—the tiered skirt, coat lines and long, close-fitting sleeves with circular bands at the wrists—and the woman in search of individuality will eagerly adopt them.

For this dress a great variety of [illegible] might be used. As a rule the latest imported fabrics are quite expensive, so that a happy medium might be found in the fine twills and woolens with soft, short pile. Faille moire is ideal for very dressy wear. The dress calls for 3½ yards of material 54 inches wide or 4¾ yards of faille moire 40 inches wide. The tiers and the frills on the sleeves are bound with bias folds of their own material.

The collar may be lined with self-fabric, if the dress is made of silk. Otherwise crepe de chine or satin should be used. The lining is cut the same shape as the collar. After it is sewed to the collar, turn the outer edge of collar the seam allowance and stitch with one or more rows of machine stitching. Next, baste the collar to the neck edge of the waist, with the right side of the collar to the wrong side of the dress. The seam is on the outside. Stitch, after basting. Baste the outer edge of the lining ⅜ of an inch back from the outer edge of the collar and baste the neck edge of the lining over the seam. Turn under the edges and hem down by hand with fine hemming stitches.

After the collar is attached to the dress, a snap hook may be added at the lower edge, to hold it securely in place. This is always advisable when the collar is longer than the regulation type. Over all, of course is a handsome buckle or braid, ribbon or metal.

Last week got by without any serious upset in dope with the exception of the Longhorn stampede. The Aggies had an easy victory over L. S. U. and Baylor eliminated the Arkansas Razorbacks from the Southwestern Conference Championship by defeating them 14 to 0. Looks like Texas has things her own way in the football world.

Saturday marked the elimination of two conference clubs from the race, and leaves only five teams undefeated for the bunting.

Zev, conquerer of Papyrus, and My Own Admiral Grayson's colt will settle their rivalry for America's three year old crown in the Latonia championship at Latonia, Ky., on November 3, unless there is an upset in the present plans. Matt Winn, general manager of the Latonia track says that he will increase the value of the championship stake there from $24,000 to $50,000 if both Zev and My Own go to the post.

Georgia Tech goes to South Bend next Saturday to face the wender team of Notre Dame on their own grounds. Guess the Yellowjackets feel like they are about to enter a lions den. Notre Dame has conquered both the Navy and Princeton so far.

Announcement from New York is that Babe Ruth has signed a contract to appear in vaudeville this winter on the Orpheum circuit. His tour is to begin about the first of November.

Filipino Uprising Is Feared in Manila.

Above is shown Senor Manuel Queon, whose activities in the Philippines against the administration of Governor-General Leonard Wood are said to have fanned strong anti-American sentiment and an uprising is feared in Manila. So strong is the sentiment for independence that General Wood made a tour of America to talk against granting it to the Filipinos at this time.

Alleged Flogging Dentist's Trial Goes to the Jury

MACON, Ga., Oct. 23.—The trial of Dr. C. A. Yarbrough, prominent dentist charged with responsibility for a series of floggings in Bibb county probably will go to the jury tomorrow night.

The city indicated it would rest its case after a few minor witnesses at the session this morning and the defense will conclude tomorrow morning.

Dr. Yarbrough has been tried twice before in connection with the reign of terror here by masked mob and little new evidence has been presented against him.

BACK HOME AGAIN

The Ferguson Stock company made good to a full house that witnessed a performance there when last night, it staged Marie Correlli's wonderful story of the northland, "Thelma." The performance as a whole, was probably the best work shown by the company, and the scenic effects, calling into play the most elaborate electrical display said to have ever been attempted on a local stage, gave a finish to the efforts of the cast which left nothing lacking to complete the performance.

The cast throughout showed personal adaptability to the respective roles, and the many dramatic situations, following quickly one upon the other in every scene, kept the audience on edge from first to last curtain.

The Spanish Troubadours added an important and popular phase to the program.

Tonight will be the last performance of this wonderful play. Starting tomorrow night the Ferguson Brothers presents the play of international fame. "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde."
